Union Parties.

The Union parties in the border States are honestly what they profess to be. Here, in Kentucky, we can have in the Union party no interests to subserve but the one -the preservation of the Union. In the free States we had been gratified to see a disposition to ignore party, except the one with the sole object to preserve the Union on the principles of the Constitution. We apprehend, however, that we are to be disappointed in these parties in the free States, and that the dominant party there intend to convert the Union party into subservience to their purposes. The Union members of the Legislature of New York, Republicans and Democrats, put forth an address, in which they have a good deal that is no party and patriotic to say, and they speak scornfully of men who would revive old issues at this crisis, and then proceed thus:

Whatever differences of opinion may have hitherto prevailed, or may still prevail, on the general subject of slavery, no one can doubt that it is, if not the primary cause, the pretext and powerful agent of the present rebellion The slaveholding interest has simed for many years to control the political action of the General Government, and to make that action subservient to its own aggrandizement. The result of the Presidential election of 1860, aided as it was by the efforts of conspirators in Southern States, signalized the defeat of that endeavor, and the disclosures of the census of the same year proved conclusively that this defeat was final. The political supremacy the slaveholding interest-the sway which that interest had previously exercise over the General Government-had been forever overthrown. To revenge this deballot box, was the primary purpose of the

That purpose has fai ed; and the permanent welfare and settled sentiment of the failure or qualify in any degree its disastrous effec s upon slavery itself. The re-bellion has thus far proved fatal to the interest it was designed to serve. The blows of the war which slavery invoked have fallen with mortal weight upon slavery itself. The whole false structure of the institution has been shaken to its foundation. Not only have its sway over the administration of the National Government and its hold upon the respectful toleration of the country been rudely and thoroughly broken, but the local laws and usages upon which it rested have been seriously affected by the presence of our armies and the measures of military administration which the emergencies of the country have required. We all agree that slavery, so far as it may be of pecuniary, social, or political value to any individua in rebellion against the Governmen', should be made to bear the penalties which every such individual incurs by the guilt of trea son or resistance to lawful authority. And we all agree in sustaining the wise and cone titutional policy of President Lincoln, by which, through aid extended by the General Government to such giave States as may initiate measures for the emancipation of their slaves, we may hope, at some future and not distant day, to be delivered forever What is this but the Chicago platform

Captain Bailey reported the result of an interview with yourself and the military authorities. It must occur to your honor that it is not within the province of a naval officer to assume the duties of a military commandant. I came here to reduce New Orleans to obedience to the laws of, and to vindi cate the offended majesty of the Govern ment of the United States. The rights of persons and property shall be seenred I therefore demand of you, as its repre

The city is yours by the power of brutal force, not my choice or the consent of its inhabitants. It is for you to determine what will be the fate that awaits us here. As to hoisting any flag not of our own adoption and allegiance, let me say to you that the man lives not in our midst whose hand and heart would not be paralyzed at the mere thought of such au act. Nor could I find in my entire constituency so desperate and wretched a ranegade as would dare to profane with his hand the sacred emblem of our aspirations.

Sir, you have manifested sentiments which would become one engaged in a better cause than that to which you have devoted your sword, and doubt not that they spring from a noble though deluded nature, and I know how to appreciate the emotion which inspired them. Pray, sir, do not fail to regard their susceptibilities. The obligations which I shall assume in their name shall be religiously complied with. You may trust their honor though you might not count on their sub

Peace and order may be preserved without resort to measures which I could not at this moment prevent. Your occupying the city does not transfer allegiance from the government of their choice to one which they have deliberately repudiated, and that they yield the obedience which the conquerer is entitled to extort from the conquered. the following particulars in regard to the evacuation of Yorktown:

ONE MILE BEYOND YORKTOWN, Sunday, 10 o'clock P. M.

All day yesterday the rebels kept up a hot fire on General Porter's division. No one was hurt. Our Parrott gun at Farmhoit Courthouse occasionally answered them. All last evening and up to to night lively firing was kept up. About that time the r fire stackened considerably, and at 2 o'clock stopped altogether. We fired one or two more batteries at them, but got no abswer. About three o'clock this morning, a build-ing at Yorktown was fired, and Professor Lowe and General Heintzelman went up in a balloon. It was their storehouses at Yorktown which was fired; at daylight the eronauts reported the forts empty. We occupied Yorktown without a gun being fired. Of the guns of the enemy, nearly all remaining were spiked and dismounted. By the side of the river battery were large

So much for the advance on New Orleans. Let me now relate an incident which cocurred a few nights ago-a regular romance of naval war. Information came to our fleet that the rebel vessel Florida-one of those smart little steam craft which are so fond of running the blockade-was up the Apalachicola river, ready to sail out the next day. The captain of the sailing bark Pursuit was dispatched to capture her, and went by night a little distance up the river. destroyed a sultpeter manufactory in a stream, until after running some two miles cave, and returned safely with the captured property.

Apalachicola, and the dark black hull of Another expedition penetrated to Jasper the steamer lying near the wharf. Everyors in their little boats neared the steamer.

A minute more and they were on deck.

The vessel in its fancied security was almost deserted, though laden with cotton and expecting to run the blockade in a day or Only the engineers were on board, two. Only the engineers were on board, and they were asleep till waked up by our men. Deeming it best to make the best of the new affairs, these gallant engineers consented for a consideration of $200 -Federal, not Confederate money-to sail the steamer out to the Federal float. She arrived out in safety with the Pursuit, and was sent to Key West as a Federal prize. There is reason to believe that the good cotton shippers of Apalachicola were both sur-prised and disgusted to find that their vessel and cargo had disappeared in a single night as mysteriously as Alladin's palace, The Florida was a new merchant steamer, built recently at Mystic, Conn., for the company of the parish of A chalafaya. Office of Kentucky Agricultural Works, Market Street, between Preston and Jackson. We commenced the manufacture of Harvesters last season, with the belief that we could furnish Machines better suited to the wants of our Farme a than any already introduced. Our plan is to make separate, not comblined, Machines; when made for the special purpose, they can be simple, cheap, and duable, white combines are necessarily complex and contry, and generally, after one season's use, out of order. We made but few Machines for last barvest, but the e.g. of area shared from performed well, as the certificates which we offer in our descriptive circular, fr. in those who have had experience with Harvesters, will show. Sr. Louis, May 5.—A refugee from the South, who was at New Orleans when our fleet arrived, says that our forces captured a large quantity of cotton, sugar, and other Plaster Paris property.

The Times special from Yorktown says the retreat of the rebels appears to have been precipitated. They commenced dis-mounting and carrying their guns back to williamsburg four days ago. Wagons have been engaged in transporting their ammu sition, provisions and camp equipage over a week past. Their sick and wounded, numbering over 2,500 men, were sent to Richmond ten days ago. The rebel soldiers and negroes were at work on their intrench-ments until 2 o'clock this morning, when their rear guard ordered the work to cease, and take up the march to Williamsburg. Durvea's Zonaves had five men killed and everal wounded by the explosion of a torpedo; also, the 38:h New York volunteers, Col. Hobart, had two men killed and four rounded; the 4th New York volunteers lost one man killed and two wounded; the 7th New York lost two men killed. Ten thousand of the rebels were sent from Winn's mill to reinforce an army sent from Richmond to oppose McDowell's adrance, last Thursday week. No great battle is expected at Williams burg, as the rebel troops, particularly those the 22d. Consols steady at 93 (@94. Within two weeks 5 000 of his men threatened to lay down their arms until they received food and clothing.

Three rebel lieutenants, two sergeants and twenty men were captured the other side of Yorktown and brought in. Since the 3d over seventy deserters have come in, and they report their army as thoroughly disheartened and demoralized

A colored man came in to-day from the distribution of the river, and represented himself as Jeff. Davis ocaohman. From an examination of him this is probably the fruth. He reports sorsps of conversation overheard while driving Mr. and Mrs Davis and in the carriage and between Mr. Davis and those who came to see him. Mr. Davis and Gen. J. E. Johnson had some heated dis-

Mrs. Davis read an article in the Richcussions about the latter's retreat from Ma-aond Examiner to her busband, saying that it was part of the Yankee plans that Genera's Banks and McDowell were to form a junction at Louisa or Caroline counties, and move down on Richmond. Mr. Davis re marked that he thought that was so; but his Generals would take care of them. The coachman overbeard a conversation between Davis and Mr. Gwin, formerly U. Senator from California. Davis said he had sent Gen J. R Anderson from North Carolina to resist the march of the Federals from Fredericksburg, and to delay them long enough for him to see the probable result of the contest before Yorktown: ac that if that was likely to be unsuccessful. he would have time to extricate his army from the peninsula, and get them into Rich mond and cut of Virginia. That otherwise they would all be caught.

The coachman represents that Mrs. Davis said the Confederacy was played out; that if New Orleans was really taken, she no longer had any interest in the matter, as all she had was there; that it was a great pity they had ever attempted to hold Virginia and the other non-cotton growing States; and that she said to Mrs. D. R Jones, daughter of Joseph Taylor, U.S. Commissary General of Subsistence, who was very acxious to get to Washington, where she has one of her children, not to give herself any trouble, but only to stay where she was, and when the Yankees came to Richmond she could go. The ceachman said that Mr. and Mrs Davis have their books, clothing and pictures packed up ready to move off; that there is much outspoken Union feeling in Richmond; that, having been a waiter in a hotel there, he knows all the Union men of the place, and that the Yankees are looked for with much pleasure more by the white han even the colored people Confederate money is not taken when it can be avoided. Mrs Davis herself was reused when she offered a ten dollar Confederate note. Many of the Richmond second Monday of December next. and Periphery Clamp Feed-Wheel.

THE SESS ASWING MACHINES COMBINE THE cases recent improvements, are nearly noiseless when in operation, run with the greatest case and rapidity, and are better adapted for general purposes and family use than any other. They are not liable to get out of order, are exceedingly simple, and are made expressly fer real practical utility; they do every variety of sewing, from the finest woven tissue to the heaviest woolen goods, both tailoring and fine leather work. Any person may learn to operate them in a very short time. Any person may learn to operate them in a very enortime.

The great difficulty with all other old-style Machines stoe much complication, requiring so enuch constant adjustment, and such an amount of mechanical skill and ingenuity to use them to advantage, as to render them of little comparative value.

But the Sewing Machines manufactured by Greenman & True are not Hable to these objections, as any person, on even a moment's examination, will readily discover. They will do more and better work than any other Machine ever offered to the public, making the mrst beautiful lock-stitch, silke on both sides. Mach for an off-hand specimen of sewing upon any material you wish, and you will then see how it is done.
